COMPLAINT

1. Mr. Ausler alleges and has shown that ASG wrongfully terminated him and subjected him to unlawful discrimination and retaliation based on his race, in violation of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 ("Title VII"), Tex. Lab. Code Ann. 451.001, Tex. Lab. Code Ann. 21.055 and Tex. Lab. Code Ann. 502.0176 and violations to the Equal Pay Act.
2. As discussed in more detail below, the record is clear that ASG discriminated and retaliated against Mr. Ausler on dates including February 7, 2020.
3. The record conclusively establishes that ASG did not have a legitimate non-discriminatory reason for his termination, although they have falsely claimed "— ongoing performance and attendance issues for which he received feedback and progressive discipline".
4. Mr Ausler has shown thorough evidence to be one of many knowingly false statements made by his employer.
5. Mr. Ausler has shown that he never violated ASG's time and leave policy by being excessively tardy and leaving work early without approval or had any performance failures while employed by ASG.
6. As described in detail below, Mr. Ausler has presented direct and circumstantial evidence of discrimination and retaliation, and he has established the prima facie elements of his claims, and that ASG's discriminatory reasons were a pretext for his termination.

MR. AUSLER'S EMPLOYMENT HISTORY

7. Mr. Ausler applied for an open ASG Modular Wall Installer position on August 19, 2020 and was hired on September 3, 2019. As shown through text messages, Mr. Ausler was supposed to be paid $18.50 per hour as agreed upon hiring instead after his first check his pay rate went down to $18.00 per hour.
8. Mr. Ausler was also eligible for overtime pay, per diem, and bonuses for bringing on new employees, and was never properly paid by his employer for either, as shown through multiple messages.
9. Mr. Ausler's job duties included, but were not limited to, travelling state to state to jobsites to assemble, disassemble, and relocate furniture systems.

10. During Mr. Ausler's employment with ASG, he made multiple complaints of discrimination to his foreman and a supervisor or an officer of ASG, Ryan Wallace, as shown through evidence ASG has multiple records of training complaints or reports of alleged unsafe conditions or practices made by Mr. Ausler, while they have knowingly and willingly falsely claimed there are none.
11. Mr. Ausler also disputed his pay on numerous occasions, which ASG never fully resolved many of those issues. By way of example,
12. Mr. Ausler and ASG discussed Mr. Ausler's pay concern regarding December 2019 time. In this instance, Mr. Ausler showed he was not paid for three days of work hours, three days of per diem, and travel time both ways. ASG knowingly falsely claimed in their answer to the EEOC, "Mr. Ausler walked off the job site one of the days at issue, and the remaining two days were non-workdays due to the Christmas holidays".
13. Mr. Ausler's has shown through texts messages that he has never walked off any job without permission nor has he been tardy or late without permission.
14. His employer has made knowingly false statements in effort to have Mr. Ausler's claim dismissed by way of perjury, false or incomplete information and what appears to be fraud.
15. Additionally, in January 2020, Mr. Ausler messaged ASG Installation Manager, Ryan Wallace, based on his belief that he did not receive full compensation for the pay period. ASG accounted for the 30 hours that were "inadvertently" not included on Mr. Ausler's time sheet and told Mr Ausler it was his fault and he is responsible for verifying time sheets prior to submission, after Mr. Ausler has repeatedly expressed concern in how time was required to be turned in without his involvement.
16. In early 2020, after Mr. Ausler had been working since September 3, 2019, ASG received multiple letters from the Office of Child Support Enforcement, such as Income Withholding for Support and National Medical Support Notices, legally requiring ASG withhold certain income from Mr. Ausler's income as directed for four of Mr. Ausler's children. Deductions for Mr. Ausler's child support obligations were only withdrawn from his last few checks.
17. Mr Ausler also has reason to believe that money also taking out of his checks for taxes were not being paid to the government as required by law.
18. Mr. Ausler was terminated on February 7, 2020. The only piece of evidence provided to the EEOC in support of his employers false claim of why he was wrongfully discharged is dated the same day and hours after he was fired.
19. At which his employer falsely claims "Mr. Ausler's supervisors submitted exit reviews of Mr. Ausler's performance, detailing his "bad attitude" and lack of accountability." Which consisted of one email from a private sender.

20. Mr Ausler's employer has claimed he was provided with information on how to file complaints with a "Dan Stack" Mr. Ausler was never provided with a name or a phone number of any "Dan Stack" or any other person for that matter, to address his concerns in regards to training or racial issues taking place on the job, as his employer falsely claimed to the EEOC.
21. Mr Ausler did however, as shown through text messages on the dates of September 12, 2019, October 25, 2019, November 21, 2019, December 12, 2019, December 14, 2019, January 6, 2020, January 10, 2020, January 11, 2020, January 13, 2020, and February 7, 2020, make complaints to Ryan Wallace in regards to the issues mentioned herein.
22. Mr. Ausler was also never disciplined for attendance issues nor was he ever in violation of ASG's time and leave policy by being tardy and leaving work early without approval as shown through text messages on January 13, 2020, December 22, 2019 and other dates.
23. Mr Ausler notified Ryan Wallace and received approval on each day that He arrived late, and on jobs that he left early. In the multiple occasions that he did leave jobs early it was because of racial issues on the job at which Ryan Wallace sent him to other jobs instead of following company policy or the laws of Texas, as shown through text messages
24. Mr. Ausler requested a handbook on January 13, 2020 from Ryan Wallace and was told that he would receive one at their first employee meeting since he was hired, in late January. Mr Ausler never received a handbook from his employer.
25. As shown by messages between Ryan Wallace and Mr. Ausler on January 17, 2020 and January 28, 2020, all of the foreman he had worked for were excited to work with him and bragged on how well he worked.
26. The only complaint or piece of evidence that has been provided to support their false claims, is their "Exhibit E" to the EEOC, a message dated February 7, 2020, time stamped a few hours after he was wrongfully discharged.
27. Mr. Ausler made complaints to Ryan Wallace on multiple occasions about the racial issues on the job, in regards to the way blacks were treated and the difference in the work load on blacks compared to the other races on the jobs, also about training practices, procedures and missing hours and benefits.
28. The messages from December show that not only was Mr. Ausler allowed by Ryan Wallace to leave the job, but he was leaving that job because of racial issues and his complaints about unsafe working conditions and practices, as he had to leave other jobs for the same complaints.
29. On November 3, 2019, as shown through messages between one of his foreman "Big Dave" and Mr. Ausler it was common and expected to not receive money owed to employees from ASG/ DKS installations.

30. On January 13, 2020 and February 7 of 2020, text messages show that he explained that there was not any way for employees to verify the time sheets. It was the foreman's responsibility for turning in their time,
31. and because of racial issues and the fact that Mr. Ausler could not be present when his time was turned in, his hours were reported short on multiple occasions, he was not reimbursed for parking on multiple occasions, and he was not paid for mileage and Per diem on multiple occasions, even after being made to perform harder jobs than other races on the jobs.
32. In regards to the knowingly false claim that Mr. Ausler was fired for performance issues attendance and other false claims, it is shown through text messages on February 6, 2020
33. Mr. Ausler notified Ryan Wallace that he would have to leave Dallas Texas on Friday, February 7, 2020 to help his mom. Ryan Wallace replied back "that's fine hope she's Ok", without any mention of any complaints about his performance or attendance.
34. The following day, Friday, February 7, 2020 there was another issue with Mr. Ausler check and he sent a message to Ryan Wallace as Mr. Ausler and Ryan Wallace were texting back and forth, Ryan Wallace called Mr. Ausler, as shown in the text messages from February 7 of 2020, and said that he was trying to sue him,
35. because he was made aware that Mr. Ausler had hired attorney "Nick Wagoner", the day before on February 6 of 2020, to ascertain these issues in regards to his pay, racial discrimination and unsafe working conditions, that is when Mr. Ausler was discharge.
36. Mr. Ausler has provided a recording to the EEOC of himself and his foreman "Eduardo" from February 7, 2020 moments after he was fired, text messages between Mr. Ausler and Ryan Wallace, text messages between one of his foreman "Max", and foreman "big Dave". He has also provided videos including foreman "Alex" who is also black or African American employee complaining about how they are being treated.
37. Furthermore, as shown through text messages Mr. Ausler was never disciplined for tardiness or performance issues. While other employees who were not African American were allowed to come to work at whatever time they wanted and whenever they wanted, come to work intoxicated, walk off jobs and return without incident, not perform regular job duties and create a unsafe work environment for Mr. Ausler
38. The only truth found in his employers statement of position and response to the EEOC in regards to his employment with ASG/DKS installations is the date he was hired and the date he was wrongfully terminated, discriminated and retaliated against.

39. In ASG's statement of position and response to the EEOC, they have provided text messages as exhibits, but the text messages provided by Mr. Ausler, comes from the same thread they have a picked and chose from to try to willfully mislead the EEOC while knowingly committing perjury.
40. Mr. Ausler is forced to assume these same unlawful tactics will be attempted against this court by his employer.
41. They have shown themselves to be dishonest and willfully and knowingly capable of committing perjury, and further crimes against Mr. Ausler to hide, deceive, and mislead the EEOC and this court, in attempt to further violate Mr. Ausler's rights.
42. As shown through text messages, videos and even the statement of position and response, Mr. Ausler was subjected to, and is still being subjected to, unlawful and racially motivated actions, work environments, and treatments.
43. Mr. Ausler has provided videos and text messages showing the difference in workloads based off of race and unfair and unsafe working conditions and practices. He has also shown that these parties mentioned will disregard laws, penalties and fines, to Continue there knowingly and willfully racially motivated actions, ignoring facts of evidence and laws that if did not exist, would have allowed this court to rule in their favor.

FEDERAL CAUSES OF ACTION

44. Mr. Ausler has Surpassed a Prima Facie Case for Race Discrimination and established that he was discriminated against because of his race in violation of Title VII, the Equal Pay Act and, Tex. Lab. Code Ann. 21.055, Tex. Lab. Code Ann. 502.0176. and Tex. Lab. Ann. 451.001 which makes it "an unlawful employment practice for an employer . . . to discharge . . . or otherwise to discriminate against any individual with respect to his compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment, because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin."
45. U.S.C. § 2000e-2(a)(1). A claim of employment discrimination can be proven through direct or circumstantial evidence. "Where . . . the plaintiff does not produce any direct evidence of discrimination, we apply the well-known McDonnell Douglas burden-shifting framework as modified and restated . . ." Burrell v. Dr. Pepper/Seven Up Bottling Group, Inc., 482 F.3d 408, 411 (5th Cir.

2007); see McDonnell Douglas Corp. v. Green, 411 U.S. 792 (1973); Winters v. Chubb & Son, Inc., 132 S.W.3d 568, 574 (Tex. App.— Houston [14th Dist.] 2004, no pet.) (TCHRA). As the Court noted in Winters:

46. Under the burden shifting analysis, the plaintiff is first required to present a prima facie case of discrimination. If the plaintiff is successful in demonstrating a prima facie case, the burden shifts to the defendant to produce evidence showing a legitimate, nondiscriminatory reason for the adverse employment actions. If the defendant succeeds in carrying his burden, the plaintiff must then prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the defendant's reasons are merely a pretext for discrimination. Id. (internal quotations omitted). Once a defendant has articulated a legitimate, non-discriminatory reason for the termination, the plaintiff cannot prevail unless he proves that the articulated reason is a pretext and that discrimination was the real motivation for the termination, as Mr. Ausler has shown.
47. To establish a prima facie case of race discrimination, Mr. Ausler needed to show that he was: "(1) a member of a protected group; (2) qualified for the position; (3) suffered some adverse employment action; and (4) was treated less favorably than a similarly situated employee outside the protected class or was otherwise terminated because of a protected characteristic." Gibson v. Verizon Servs. Org., Inc., 498 F. App'x 391, 395 (5th Cir. 2012). Here, Mr. Ausler has satisfied all elements of his prima facie case.
48. Mr. Ausler as an African American man, has shown through text messages that he was treated differently than similarly situated persons outside his protected class. Further, in considering the fourth prong of the prima facie case of discrimination, Mr. Ausler needed to show that an employee not in his protected class engaged in conduct nearly identical to that which Mr. Ausler was terminated, but not terminated. As mentioned herein and can be shown through text messages and videos provided to the EEOC. McCarry v. Univ. of Miss. Med. Ctr., 355 Fed. Appx. 853, 857 (5th Cir. 2009).
49. Mr. Ausler is able to show that that their were ASG employees that repeatedly walked off job sites and exhibited numerous other ongoing performance issues without termination.
50. Regarding payment and violations to the Equal Pay Act, Mr. Ausler was denied proper wages as agreed upon hiring, his child support obligations were not being paid and Mr. Ausler believes he can show that taxes were taken out of his checks but not turned over to the government.
51. Mr. Ausler has provided direct evidence to support his conclusory allegations that ASG's actions were based on race, that he was required to perform harder jobs, denied training, and incorrectly paid, and that is sufficient to sustain a claim. As

- discussed above, Mr. Ausler was terminated by ASG for discriminatory reasons and has established causation between his race and the employment action.
52. In short, Mr. Ausler has provided direct evidence to describe and support his conclusory allegations that ASG provides non-African American workers “easier” jobs, more training, or more pay. Although Mr. Ausler’s employer has stressed that he was one of the highest paid, he was repeatedly told by Ryan Wallace and multiple foreman that because of Mr. Ausler’s name “Antonio” they were under the assumption he was “Mexican” when he was hired at $18.50 per hour at which went down to $18.00 per hour after his first check.
53. Therefore, Mr. Ausler has established a prima facie case of race discrimination, retaliation, wrongful discharge and violations to the Equal Pay Act, the undisputed facts support Mr. Ausler’s race discrimination claim.
54. Mr. Ausler Asserts a Valid Claim for Retaliation because there was a causal link between his purported opposition to alleged unlawful employment practices and his termination. The evidence establishes that, just 1 day prior to Mr. Ausler being wrongfully discharged, he had hired attorney “Nick Wagoner” to ascertain and file a lawsuit in regards to the issues mentioned herein.
55. Evidence of Pretext Winters, 132 S.W.3d at 574As discussed above, the McDonnell Douglas burden-shifting framework applies to discrimination claims under Title VII. Vargas, 630 F. App’x at 216; Under that framework, if a plaintiff makes a prima facie showing, the burden shifts to the employer to proffer a legitimate rationale for the underlying employment action. Id. If the employer makes this showing, the burden shifts back to the plaintiff. Id. The plaintiff bears the ultimate burden of proving that the employer’s articulated reasons are pretext for the real, discriminatory and/or retaliatory purpose.
56. Mr. Ausler has satisfied his burden to show that ASG proffered reasons for his termination are pretext for a discriminatory motive. To show pretext, a plaintiff must prove that the reason proffered by the employer for termination is unworthy of credence, or that the employer’s decision was more likely motivated by discriminatory or retaliatory reasons. Tex. Dep’t of Cmty. Affairs v. Burdine, 450 U.S. 248, 257 (1981). To do so, Mr. Ausler has proffer “substantial evidence.” Johnson v. Manpower Prof’l Servs., 442 F. App’x 977, 981 (5th Cir. 2011).
57. Mr. Ausler has shown substantial evidence that ASG’s actions were discriminatory and/or retaliatory, establishing pretext. Accordingly, for this independent reason as well, Mr. Ausler’s discrimination claim is successful as a matter of law.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

58. Mr. Ausler has suffered mentally, emotionally and financial burdens since he was discriminated against and wrongfully terminated.
59. Mr. Ausler has lost weight, is now suffering from anxiety and depression, he has lost his place of residence and has been forced to go from one relative to another in order to have a place to sleep.
60. Personal relationships with his kids and others has been affected by not being able to fulfill needs, wants or promises made because of the benefits and amount of money he would have earned, had it not been for his employers actions or failures to act.
61. Mr. Ausler's truck payment and other obligations have fallen behind and he never had any issue with it being paid before he was discharged.
62. Mr. Ausler's entire life has been turned upside down from how he has been treated as an African American man, making from $1,200-1,800 a week to barely getting a little over $100 dollars a week now, and not being able to find a job paying nearly what he was making,
63. Mr. Ausler is emotionally, mentally, physically and financially in turmoil because of the discriminatory actions taken by Ryan Wallace, ASG and DKS Installations LLC
64. Mr. Ausler is requesting $20,000 for pain and suffering
65. Mr. Ausler can show lost pay damages at which he is requesting from this court,
66. Mr. Ausler lost his 401k, option for health and dental insurance for him and his children, and new hire benefits, at which Mr. Ausler is requesting $65,000 for his lost pay and lost benefits. ($$18.00 \times 70 \text{ hrs} \times 44 \text{ wks} = $55,440$)
67. Mr. Ausler also prays for punitive damages in the amount of $200,000 to ensure that the defendants understand the seriousness of their actions and to deter them from making any further future acts of discrimination, retaliation, perjury, fraud or attempts to impede in any way, any investigation, complaint or lawsuit where the facts and evidence is not in their favor.
68. Mr. Ausler also hopes in having to pay punitive damages his employer would understand the need for training and provide better working conditions and safety measures to their African American employees.

CONCLUSION

69. For the reasons described above, Mr. Ausler's discrimination and retaliation claims are proven as a matter of law.

70. Therefore, Mr. Ausler respectfully prays and request of this court that the defendants are forced to pay as a matter of law and without any delay in the amounts of

71. $20,000 for pain and suffering $65,000 for lost pay and lost benefits and $200,000 for punitive damages

And plaintiff prays for any and all other relief that this court deems necessary and the plaintiff is entitled by law.

THE EEOC IS CLOSING ITS FILE ON THIS CHARGE FOR THE FOLLOWING REASON:

The facts alleged in the charge fail to state a claim under any of the statutes enforced by the EEOC.

Your allegations did not involve a disability as defined by the Americans With Disabilities Act.

The Respondent employs less than the required number of employees or is not otherwise covered by the statutes.

Your charge was not timely filed with EEOC; in other words, you waited too long after the date(s) of the alleged discrimination to file your charge.

The EEOC issues the following determination: Based upon its investigation, the EEOC is unable to conclude that the information obtained establishes violations of the statutes. This does not certify that the respondent is in compliance with the statutes. No finding is made as to any other issues that might be construed as having been raised by this charge.

The EEOC has adopted the findings of the state or local fair employment practices agency that investigated this charge.

- NOTICE OF SUIT RIGHTS -

(See the additional information attached to this form.)

Title VII, the Americans with Disabilities Act, the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act, or the Age Discrimination in Employment Act: This will be the only notice of dismissal and of your right to sue that we will send you. You may file a lawsuit against the respondent(s) under federal law based on this charge in federal or state court. Your lawsuit must be filed WITHIN 90 DAYS of your receipt of this notice; or your right to sue based on this charge will be lost. (The time limit for filing suit based on a claim under state law may be different.)

Equal Pay Act (EPA): EPA suits must be filed in federal or state court within 2 years (3 years for willful violations) of the alleged EPA underpayment. This means that backpay due for any violations that occurred more than 2 years (3 years) before you file suit may not be collectible.
